April Arrivals

Neal Rosenthal

Italy

Azienda Agricola Paolo Bea: Giampiero Bea's singularly gutsy and groundbreaking red wines are justifiably among RWM's most coveted offerings; we will debut the monumental 2020 vintage of "San Valentino" and "Pagliaro," plus the unique 2024 "Cotidie"—an ancient-style field blend of Trebbiano and Sagrantino.

Gravner: the pioneering Josko Gravner seeks never to interfere with nature's intent for his masterful, soul-stirring wines; we will debut the 2017 Ribolla (a unique vintage even for Gravner, presented in a manner befitting an art gallery—details to follow) along with a smidgen of the ultra-rare 2011 "Sivi" (Pinot Grigio) and a handful of mixed three-packs of 2011s (including the Sauvignon, "Sivi," and Ribolla "R").

Elio Sandri [NEW]: RWM is thrilled to welcome into our portfolio the deeply traditional wines of Elio Sandri in Monforte d'Alba; we will receive small lots of Elio's 2019 Barolos, with splashes of the Dolcetto d'Alba, Barbera d'Alba Superiore, and the Langhe Nebbiolo from 2023.

Danilo & Amedeo Thomain: the Thomain clan are the sole independent bottlers of Enfer d'Arvier, the second highest-altitude zone of the Valle d'Aosta, producing infectiously scrumptious, dynamic Petit Rouge from its vertiginous terraces; we will receive the streamlined, mineral-drenched 2024 vintage from this father-and-son team.

Terrevive: Gianluca Bergianti's fully functioning biodynamic farm produces among the most boundary-pushing wines in the entire Lambrusco region; we will see his full range of 2023s, including a new wine called "Mare"—a sappy, juicy, chillable old-vines still red wine produced via semi-carbonic maceration.

Austria - Josef Fischer: third-generation Joe Fischer impeccably tends 11 hectares of vines situated on the Danube's southern side, whose less sun-drenched northerly orientation produces wines of thrilling acidity and frank minerality; we will see his village-level 2025 Grüner Veltliner, plus the 2023 G.V. "Frauenweingarten" Smaragd.

France

Domaine Michel Cheveau: Nicolas and Aurélie Cheveau produce Maconnais and Beaujolais wines of chiseled precision and stunning clarity; we will debut the 2024 village-level Pouilly-Fuissé wines, the 2023 Pouilly-Fuissé premier crus, and the Beaujolais-Villages "En Chantenay" and Saint-Amour "La Villa Violette" from 2024.

Domaine Anita: we will receive this up-and-coming superstar's complete set of 2024 cru Beaujolais from Fleurie, Morgon, and Moulin-a-Vent, plus the 2025 Chenas "Cuvée P'tit Co."

Lame Delisle Boucard: this historic Bourgueil domaine produces letter-perfect and highly ageable wines using tried-and-true old-school methods; in addition to the flagship 2023 "Vieilles Vignes," we will see the 2022 single-vineyard "Brunetières," the long-aged 2017 "Cuvée Prestige," and the lip-smacking zero-sulfur 2025 "Nom de Zeus!"

Duc des Nauves: this Le Puy-owned property produces a red Bordeaux of immense character at a terrific price, and there's a reason it's almost always sold out; the 2024 arrives this month.

Domaine Gour du Chaulé: Paul Fumoso and his trailblazing mother Stephanie produce among the greatest wines in Gigondas; we will see their flagship 2024 Gigondas, newly christened "Les Jardinières" ("the gardeners"), as well as the 2024 Côtes-du-Rhône—a true insider's-secret bottling made purely from declassified Vacqueyras.

The first wave of 2025 Provence rosés

With spring weather nearly upon us, we eagerly await the 2025 rosés from Domaine Gavoty, Château Les Mesclances (Côtes de Provence), and Domaine du Bagnol (Cassis) this month!

Sharing a belief that wine best expresses itself when produced as naturally as possible, every grower with whom we work practices sustainable agriculture, which means they do not use chemical fertilizers, pesticides or herbicides and only treat the vineyards with organic products when necessary. A great number of our growers are at an advanced stage of sustainable farming and strictly practice biodynamic principles or could pursue organic certification if they chose to but do not due to size, philosophical reasons or financial constraints. .
